The Great Barrier Reef, located off the coast of Australia, is the world's largest coral reef system. The reef is the only living thing on earth that is visible from outer space. It consists of 2900 individual reefs and 800 fringing reefs (which form closer to shorelines). It stretches from north to south over 1250 mi (2000 km) and has an area of about 135,000 mi^2 (350,000 km^2).
